Mr. P. Bernstein, Israel Minister of Commerce and Industry, h. s. joined a local controversy by signing a cable to Rabbi Israel Goldstein, President of the World Confederation of General Zionista, denying the existence of an agreement prohibiting the General Zionists from organising in this country.

The controversy arose from a gentlemen's agreement reported to have been made at a plenary meeting of the World Confederation of General Zionists held in Jerusalem in August. 1951, to the effect that neither the General Zionists nor the Progressives, which are affiliated with the Confederation, desire or seek declarations of identification from General Zionists abroad.

Finally, we are willing to examine with the best will in the wirld any regional water plan that may be submitted by any international body. It was in this spirit that we promised to study, and have indeed been studying, the plan recently proposed in general outline by the U.S.A. Government.

Our method in studying plans of this kind will be twofold: first, a meticulous examination of the scientific and technical premises and data on which they has been completed.

Or world-famous experts in whom we have confidence; and experience we conselves have accumulated, and in insistence on the volume of water and the power potential which are essential for the comomic development of Israel and for her very existence. in timple and moving ceremony, the members of the Maccabi Association presented the torch to the President bringing him the "blessing of the Maccabecabi Association for the Maccabecabeca" Prasident Ecn-Zvi, with Mrs. Ban-Zvi at his side, in accepting it, thanked them, saying that it symbolized the "nev! light that will go forth from Zion."

After the presentation, the group proceeded to the Municipality, where Mayor Kariv accepted the torch on behalf of the citizens of Jerusalem.

As the young Maccabecs left for the Municipality, a second group of torch-bearers from Modi'in, mambers of the Air Force and representatives of the Ministry of Religious Affairs arrived at the President's citics at 4.30 p.m. At Modi'in they had taken part in elaborate ceremonies near the site of the burial place of the Maccabecs, the actual site being across the border.

Chief Air Force Chaplain, David Cahana in presenting the torch to the President said they, the soldiers of Israel, are continuing the tradition of the Maccabeces as defenders of Israel, He was presenting the torch as homage to the President before proceeding to Mount Zion to light the Hanukkis there.

Mr. Ben-Zvi accepted the torch and thanked them for the honour they were bestowing upon him. These solders symbolized the hope, faith and strength of the ancient Maccabecs, he said.

From the President's office, the members of the group, carrying the torch, advanced to Mount Zion, traditional burial place of King David. Thera, alongside the huge Hanukkia, the group listened as Dr. S. Z. Rahana, Deputy Minister of Religious Affairs, explained the significance of the hill for Jews throughout the ages. This was indicated, he said, by the remains of a synagogue built 2,000 years ago which had been found on Mount Zion. By this time dust had failen. By the light of the torch, Cantor Israel Stern, whose son fell in the battle for Mount Zion, bleased the first candle. Taking a light from the torch, he lit a lantern which was placed in the Hanukkia; An additional lantern will be lit on each of the eight days of Hanukka.

In pitch darkness the group moved to the Room of King David, where another Hanukkia was lit, and the first Paalm of David was read.

A small group then climbed to the roof to light the Hanukkia facing the Western Wall, the only relic of Herod's Temple.

Straight ahead, past the Old City, could be seen the yellow lights of the Hanukkia on Mount Scopus twinking in the darkness, a glimmer in the country-wide band of fire from Hanuskia to the Feast of Lights commemorating the clearing of paganism from the Temple 2,118 years ago and the rededication of the mation.

The first Hanukka light was lit in the President's home yesterday evening in the presence.

Rain Insurance
TEL AVIV, Tuesday,—Local football history was made here today when the Petah Tikva Maccabi managers, the organisers of next week's games with the visiting Brazilian Cruseiro soccer team, asked the local Lloyds office to insure the games against rain for 1...30,000.
Lloyds' agents have already contacted London and have started to investigate the relation between weather and attendance in football statistics, it is reported.

Petah Tikva Maccabi have made their insurance request in view of the close to IL.10.000 loss sustained by the organisers of the Swedish Alk team games which failed to gather large crowds because of rainy weather.

The Cruseiro's first game against Tel Aviv Maccabi at the Ramat Gan municipal stadium has been postponed until December 2.

Milk Subsidy

Price controls on milk are not expected to be lifted in the near future, well-informed sources said in Jerusalem yesterday. It is possible, however, that the Government subsidy, now-about 40 pruta per litre of pure wilk, shortly will be increased. The milk powder content is to lowered soon in view of the usual seasonal rise in production.

A few months ago, Government circles were predicting the Names on Pages 2.

At Har Adom, near Alma, where the converted Christian Italians live, and at Shahar, the children were most pleased with the footballs. The hands and feet of many children were bius from the cold. These children need clothes badly, especially handkerchiefs, socks and shoes.

At Alma, the police jeep was met by the teacher riding on a donkey.

Everywhere the gift-bearing delegation went, the people were deeply thankful and hoped that future visits of the police would be of a similar pleasant nature.

prices, marketing and allied problems seem to point towards retention of controls.

The milk subsidy costs the Government approximately IL-280,000 a month.

Jordan to Give A---Training to Refugees AMMA. Tuesday (AF?). — Prime Minister Fawzi Mulki yesterday instructed the competent government departments to call all Palestine Arab refugees in Jordan to undergo a period of military training in order to strengthen the National Guard.

It is recalled that these refugees repeatedly asked to serve with the Jordan Army. Some 450,000 refugees live in Jordan. The expenditure involved in recruiting arming and maintaining refugee units will be shared by Arab countries in compliance with a decision recently reached in Cairo in the Arab League Political Committee.

Leading U.S. Physician Shot Dead by Mistake

Shot Dead by Mistake
DETROIT, Tuesday (Reuter).—
A leading American heart specialist, Dr. Edward Spalding, was shot dead in the street here last night being mistaken for another doctor.

Police said that John Sherpack, Si, whom they arrested later, was carrying a long list of doctors, nurses and hospital orderlies whom he had marked for death—but Dr. Spalding was not among them.

Sherpack was quoted by police as raying that he thought he had killed his intended victim, Dr. William McAlonan, who had treated him for about a year but "did not do me any good."

To Every Home in Israel In our struggle for political and economic independence the duty of the Jewish people is to put all its energies at the disposal of the State of Israel and the Cause of Zionism. Our generation has imposed upon itself the historical obligation of the Ingathering of Exiles and their Absorption; conquest of our wastelands and their cultivation; discovery and exploitation of all our mineral resources; strengthening and development of the State's economy to reach complete independence; to reshape the character of our nation to suit a free people living in a free country.

The realization of the vision of a Jewish State has not ful-filed all the Zionist Ideal and the struggle for its existence, freedom and independence remains still

The task of our generation, unique in the history of the Jewish people, is entrusted in the hands of the State of Israel and World Zionist Movemen. Its execution has of Israel and World Zionist Movemen' Its execution has extensive financial requirements. The entire Jewish people is contributing to supply the required funds, and we, residents of the State of Israel must serve as an example to the Dinspors for our goodwill and efforts to the benefit of Keren Hayesod — the United Jewish Appeal — which is the main financial medium of the World Movement, made — of grants to the State of -srael by all the Jewish people, heedless of any terms or conditions.

On the op.ning of the drive by the Keren Hayesod for the year 1953/54, we call upon all our friends, sympathiners, and on every house in Israel, to make proof of intensified goodwill in contributing to Keren Hayesod — the United Jewish Ap. es.

vant figures are available to everybody. Why then does Mr. Deane distort them?

3. Even more than the facts adduced by Mr. Deane, his basic approach seems to be mistaken. Evidently, a comparison between the present situation in North Africa with that of a Western country must be unfavourable to the French effort in Algeria, d Tunisia, or Morocco, It took a Western countries centuries to arrive at a state of civilization which is not altogether a matter of complete satisfaction even today, whereas France found in Algeria in 1830, Tunisia in 1831, and Morocco in 1912 in a completel, medieval state. Angels or fairles only could have achieved better results than France did in this comparatively brief period. The true standard of comparison should be the situation in other Arab countries. Under this aspect, the facts favourable to France, which are so obvious that even Mr. Deane has to admit them, will give a very different impression, And the present state of affairs in Libya, with her newly attimed independence, should offer an excellent opportunity to reconsider Mr. Deane's arguments. sengthy reply, our in view of your restricted space I confine myself to a few observations.

1. It is incorrect to say that the Jews of Algeria were naturalized as a result of the loan made by the Bank of Rothschild to the Government of France in order to pay the war debt to Germany after the war of 1870-71. The decree of October 24, 1870-known as Decret Créméreux—which granted the naturalization, was issued before the payment of that debt; it was, in fact, the outcome of a project of law elaborated in the first years of the Second Empire.

2. Similar errors could be pointed out with regard to the figures quoted by your correspondent. Mr. Deane states for example, that the cost of administration amounts to 70 per cent of the budget of Tunisia, and to 80 per cent of that of Morocco, In fact, during 1951-52, the Budget of Tunisia amounted to Fr. 25,808 m, out of which no less than Fr. 16,082 m, were spent on new equipment at. I the economic development of the country, In Morocco, administration accounted in 1952 for Fr. 26,000m, out of a total of Fr. 78,000m, which included Fr. 78,000m. for education, Furthermore, since the arrival of France, the cultivated area has been increased from one million to ten million acres, only seven per cent of which are owned by Europeans.

All these and many other rele-

arguments,

The French want to unite North Africa into one economic unit. In this they are hampered by international agreements limiting their economic freedom in Morocco, Without Morocco, the richest of the three territories, a North African State would be economically doomed from its inception. The Prime Minister received with some surprise the suggestion conveyed by Mr. Davies that a meeting between President Traman and Premier Stalln should take place at some agreed point, and that the representatives of his Majesty's Government should be invited to join a few days later.

It must be understood that the representatives of His Majesty's Government would not be able to attend any meeting except as equal partners from its opening. This would be undoubtedly regrettable. The Prime Minister does not see that there is any need to raise an issue so wounding to Britain, to the British Empire and Commonwealth of Nations.

(In this note the Prime Minister suggested, though without insistence, that London, "the greatest city in the world, and very heavily battered during the war," soas the natural place for the Victory meeting. He also discussed at some length the future of Battern Burope. (Some other pasages from the note are given below.)
